About Kalus Hideaway

Kalu's Hideaway is set amidst a rural and remote dry zone village, just 15 minutes away from the gates of the Uda Walawe National Park, this five-bedroomed hotel in rural surroundings offers the best option at Uda Walawe for upmarket accommodation. The hotel was created by Sri Lankan test cricketer, Romesh Kaluwitharana, a star of their 1997 World Cup win.

Rooms

Kalu's has five ensuite bedrooms - three doubles and one triple on the ground floor and one double on the upper floor. The rooms are furnished with solid timber single beds. Ceiling fans and natural breezes compensate for the absence of a/c. The upper-floor double room, which is reached through a rustic staircase, has great views of the surrounding landscape and a private covered balcony.

The choice of colours used on the walls – the colour of earth on outer walls and comforting white on the inside – generates the warmth of a traditional village house, mingled with assured cosiness of a modern abode.

Dining

Bedrooms on the ground floor open onto a small lounge with a lower sitting area that has built-in seating, TV with satellite channels and home theatre system. An open-sided, covered terrace area at the back houses the dining room which overlooks the vegetable gardens and the wilderness beyond. As well as Sri Lankan and Western dishes, BBQs are organized on request in a garden pavilion. There is also a cook, house boy and gardener.

Facilities

There is an outdoor swimming pool with Jacuzzi in the best natural surrounding nature can provide with paddy fields and the jungle on all sides. A branch of the River Walawe goes behind the hotel making the hideaway also a location suitable for camping.

Relaxing At Kalus Hideaway

Dining At Kalu's Hideaway

Kalu's Hideaway is the holiday home of former Sri Lankan cricketer, Romesh Kaluwitharana, a star of the 1997 World Cup win. Kalu's is a welcoming and comfortable small hotel in the heart of Uda Walawe's wilderness offering spacious and well designed rooms, comfortable beds and crisp white linen, good Sri Lankan rice and curries and welcoming smiles. Go on an adventurous wildlife safari to the Uda Walawe Park and return to Kalu's for a chilled fresh fruit juice and relaxing swim amidst overlooking the five acre gardens. Children will enjoy the play area and spotting birds from the tree house.

Uda Walawe National Park is 15 minutes away. According to wildlife reports, there are about 500 elephants in the park and they often roam in herds of up to 100. Numerous species of birds as well as deer, monitor lizards and crocodiles can be spotted. Feeding time at the Elephant Transit Camp adjoining the National Park is also another wonderful experience; times are specified in advance. Here, orphaned baby elephants are cared for by the Wildlife Department until they are ready to be released to the jungle. An elephant sponsorship programme enables guests to support this worthwhile cause.
