About Kelburne Bungalows

Kelburne `Mountain View` Cottages, which date from the turn of the 20th century, are three bungalows perched on a ridge close to Haputale, blessed with one of the most breathtaking vistas that Sri Lanka can offer. On a clear day, dramatic views to the south and east can stretch for more than 50 miles right down to the Indian Ocean. The landscape of the Uva Highlands consists of a land of lush tea plantations, majestic peaks and rushing waterfalls.

Cottages

Each cottage comes with a private chef and housekeeper on call to prepare meals at any time of day.

Wildflower Cottage

With three bedrooms, lounge with fireplace, dining room and two bathrooms with showers.

Rose Cottage

Also has three bedrooms, three bathrooms (one with bath) and lounge and dining room.

Aerie Cottage

Smaller but perhaps the neatest of all, boasts two bedrooms, two bathrooms (one with bath tub), lounge with open fire and dining room.

Meals

The bungalows are set in the hillside around a central garden that has a dining pavilion and kitchen. Meals from the resident chef's menu can be served in each bungalow's dining room or the restaurant pavilion.

Fresh provisions are sourced from local markets. English vegetables like carrots, leeks, cabbage, and cauliflower grow beautifully at such high altitudes.

Activities

The Eastern Hill Country offers some excellent opportunities for walking and hiking among tea estates. Excursions are also possible to view the extraordinary grasslands and moss-covered rhododendron forests of the Horton Plains National Park.

Magnificent panoramas of the lowlands can be seen from the nearby town of Haputale, which sits on top of the southern escarpment. Estate paths also lead to Lipton's Seat, with possibly the most staggering views seen anywhere in the Hill Country of Sri Lanka.

At the Ella Gap, there are more impressive views of the island from the garden of the Ella Rest House. The pretty Diyaluma Falls near Haputale are the second highest in Sri Lanka.
