Rooms

Due to its highly original design, the hotel is the first in Sri Lanka to offer rooms built over water and paddy fields; each is spacious and tastefully designed offering great comfort and seclusion.

Water Dwellings: Suites built over a waterway filled with lotuses. Each has a timber deck that juts out over the water providing a picturesque view of the numerous water birds that inhabits the area. A separate dining deck over looking the water provides for dining under the stars.

Paddy Field Dwellings: These six dwellings are built over paddy fields and have small plunge pools on the deck. The village farmers harvest the paddy fields during the season providing a special insight into paddy cultivation.

Marsh Dwellings: Six dwellings are situated over the marsh area. Two have plunge pools on the decks.

Forest Dwellings: Bordering the wilderness are the ten luxurious Forest Dwellings. Each of these two story villas has a 22 ft x 10 ft. private swimming pool. The ground floor consists of an open cemented lounge area with plush floor cushions overlooking the swimming pool and the scenic views beyond, an indoor courtyard, and elegant en suite bathroom with bath tub and rain water shower. A large spectacular bedroom and a private balcony, occupies the second floor.
